Dear Class of 2022:

Congratulations on your impending graduation! On behalf of the faculty and staff at Columbus College of Art & Design, I'd like to acknowledge your efforts to meet this milestone, and wish you the best going forward.

In the excitement of the work remaining, and for the upcoming ceremony itself, the next few weeks will seem like a blur. So, before things get really hectic, I want to encourage you to take time to look around and remember all that is special about CCAD. Your connection to this place, the faculty and staff, and your fellow students, extends well beyond a short walk across the stage to pick up your diploma—so we sincerely hope you'll keep in touch with us so we can continue to support your creative and professional growth and brag about your future successes!

All that said, here's what you need to know about the big day coming up:

The 2022 Columbus College of Art & Design Commencement will be held at the Wexner Center for the Arts' Mershon Auditorium on Saturday, May 14, at 10 a.m. Graduates must arrive at Mershon Auditorium, 1871 N. High St., Columbus 43210, no later than 9 a.m. to gather in the assembly area. You will pick up your name card and honor cord (if applicable), and line up in processional order.

Additional information regarding all of the commencement week activities is included in this packet. Please pay attention to the rehearsal guidelines as well as the graduation announcement and hotel information.

I look forward to sharing this very special event with you. Again, congratulations, and best wishes!
